HIS NAME MUST STAY

Walsh of Lewiston Not a Candidate For Congress, But Ballot Says So

State Senator Laurence J. Walsh of Lewiston, today formally requested the Secretary of State's Department in writing to remove his name from the June 20 primary ballot as a candidate for the Democratic Congressional nomination from the Second District. He previously announced in Lewiston he had withdrawn his candidacy.

Despite Walsh's request, Secretary of State Frederick Robie and Deputy Harold I. Goss, in charge of the election division, said the Lewiston man's name "is on the ballot and there it must remain."

The department officials said there were no provisions to permit removal of Walsh's name.

Lakewood Theatre

"Yes, My Darling Daughter" Will Be Presented Week of May 30

"Yes, My Darling Daughter," the comedy success which has been running all season in New York, has been chosen as the play that will usher in the 38th consecutive season of the Lakewood Players at Lakewood, Saturday night, May 28. The play will be given the entire week of May 30 with the first Saturday matinee June 4.

Praised by the critics as the wisest and wittiest play of the year, "Yes, My Darling Daughter" has been chosen as the initial bill in order to give Lakewood patrons the latest Broadway hit. It is an amusing story of a mother who had lived in Greenwich Village before her marriage but who finds it difficult to permit her daughter to repeat her own experiences. Written by Mark Reed and offered in New York with a cast headed by Lucille Watson, Violet Heming, and Nicholas Joy (former Lakewood player). "Yes, My Darling Daughter" has been the outstanding comedy success of the last few seasons. It will be produced at Lakewood under the direction of Melville Burke who returns for his eighth season to stage the company's productions.

Both Burke and Herbert L. Swett, manager of Lakewood, believe that the plays to be given this summer comprise the most varied and entertaining list in the history of America's oldest summer theatre. It includes such current successes as "Room Service," "Brother Rat," "Tovarich," Noel Coward's "Tonight At 8.30," "Penny Wise," and "Blind Alley," together with revivals of such fine plays as "Outward Bound," "The Constant Wife," "Declasse," and "The Awful Truth." There will be a new comedy by Owen Davis titled "Let's Never Change," and the appearance of Arthur Byron in his latest Broadway starring vehicle "Step-Over."

Reservations for the season are now being accepted and the prices for all performances, evening and Saturday matinee, will remain as before at $1 for the entire orchestra and the center balcony and 50 cents for the side balconies.

Visitors to Lakewood will find numerous improvements this season. A new row of overnight bungalows, to be called the Elms, has been started and is expected to prove as popular with visitors as the Birches were last season.

TREAT YOUR LAWN

Fertilizer Properly Applied At This Time Acts As Spring Tonic

If you want a good lawn this summer, now is the time to give it a spring tonic application of fertilizer, says A. D. Nutting, extension forester at the University of Maine, who also supervises the better home grounds project of the Maine Extension Service.

Nutting says that a lawn in fair condition needs an application of 20 to 30 pounds of a complete fertilizer to the 1000 square feet of area. The fertilizer should be fairly high in nitrogen content—that suitable for the gardens or for potatoes will be satisfactory. Lawns with large trees, or those low in fertility, need a heavier application of about 35 pounds to 1000 square feet. Fertilizer should be divided into equal parts and distributed in two directions to cover all sections thoroughly.

Roll the lawn as soon as the frost has left the ground, and apply grass seed to all bare spots just before rolling. Nutting advises, he recommends Kentucky blue grass and red top as the best for this purpose.

When the frost leaves the ground it is also time to plant new trees and shrubs. Nutting says it may often happen that native trees are transplanted, and that is a good practice if the trees have grown in the open and are healthy, fast-growing specimens. Fill the new planting hole with the best loam available, he advises, and add a good quantity of well-rotted manure.

This is also the season to remove dead wood from shade trees, especially the lower branches that are easily reached. All dead wood should also be cut from shrubs, and plants like hydrangea, anemone, waterer spirea, and garden snowberry, which bloom on the new growth, should be pruned severely if they were not pruned last fall. All shrubs that are too thick have some wood removed.

May I urge all our citizens to wear the Red Poppy of the American Legion on that day in memory of those gallant men who made the supreme sacrifice during the World War and as a token of love and respect for those who became invalids as the result of war.

What Goes In Them

Another Essay On The Complex of Those Carbonated Beverages

All carbonated beverages are made up in a general sense of water, carbon-dioxide, sugar, and flavoring matter, with possibly some color added. Of course the largest constituent is water. The modern bottler is not content to take the water as it comes from springs or city mains, but passes it through purification processes of his own. In places where the water is naturally good, as it is here, the equipment consists of a water filter which removes a surprising amount of dirt from the water. During times of the year when the water has a disagreeable taste due to vegetable matter in it, an attachment causes settlement of the matter, and it is removed by the filter. Where water is not good, water stills and ultra-violet ray purifiers are often employed to prepare the water.

The carbon-dioxide which gives the beverages their sparkle and pep, is chemically composed of two parts of oxygen and one part carbon. This was the first gas ever discovered (17th century) and was first made into liquid form (in 1834) by Faraday. The old method of preparation was for the bottle to have a revolving tank in which was placed marble dust and sulphuric acid. The gases they emanated were mostly carbon dioxide. It was from this process that the name carbonic acid gas originated. Today, a grade of coke, low in sulphur, is burned in special furnaces, and the carbon-dioxide gas is extracted by means of complicated apparatus from the fumes. This gas is scrubbed, and compressed into steel cylinders at pressures ranging from 750 to 1130 pounds per square inch. Carbonic gas is recognized as a preventive of typhoid, it having been demonstrated that typhoid germs cannot live in highly carbonated water.

Little need be said about the value of sugar as an energy food, except to point out that due to the action of the fruit acids in the beverages, sugar in carbonated beverages is what is known as pre-digested sugar, that is, it is already for the blood stream, and goes directly into energy instead of to a fat stage first. For a quick pick-up, the sugar in carbonated beverages is ready and it never fattens.

Probably the earliest flavors came from herbs and spices and fruit juices. Spices gradually changed in old times from a medicine to an every day staple, nor is the change too old. Perhaps some of you can remember your mother giving you sassafras tea to thin your blood (so she said). It was medicine then, but now children eat candy and drink soft drinks in which it is one of the main constituents. The same can be said for the fruit juices at one time they were used as medicine, now in bottled carbonated their use grows annually as the public becomes more and more aware of their importance in the diet. Fruit beverages contain vitamins and fruit acids which react in the human body to form beneficial alkalies, making them very valuable to the diet of a child.

There isn't one constituent in the carbonated beverage that isn't pure and good for you, and in the next issue will be seen what some doctors and health authorities think of them.

PRISON HAS NEW RECORD

With the arrival of six convicts at the Maine State Prison yesterday that institution had the largest population in its history—362.

Affairs at the penitentiary are moving forward in a highly satisfactory manner, and in the words of Warden "Jack" Welch the shops are functioning 100 percent.

Although the planting weather is nothing to write home about activities have started on the prison farm. Twelve acres of potatoes—certified Arrostook seed—will be planted. Two bushels of peas are making their appearance and two acres of vegetables have been planted.

Last fall, 10 acres of new land were made ready for cultivation, and will be laid down to potatoes, cabbages and turnips.

All other conditions being equal the prison farm is going to give a grand account of itself this summer.

THREE ALTERNATIVES

Country Cannot "Borrow Itself Out of Debt" Says Warren Man

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—After the government has borrowed the last dollar it can and has had meters placed on noses that the air itself may be taxed, what is going to pay the old age pensions, WPA, CCC and other projects now financed by borrowed money? That time is surely coming and soon.

There will be three alternatives—revolution, dictatorship and the Townsend Plan. Revolution in this country would make the war in Spain look like a pink tea party. Dictatorship would make slaves under an iron fist. The Townsend Plan would pay old age pensions, put people back to work, start factories all over the country, save democracy and pay back the money borrowed to enable the government to exist.

Why not make the decision now rather than be forced into a choice? The country cannot borrow itself out of debt any more than it can borrow itself into prosperity. "Eventually, why not now?" for the Townsend Plan?

29. This play came up in a St. George game years ago. A man on third and one out. The man starts for home on the pitch. The squeeze is on. The catcher brushes aside the batter, catches the ball, and tags the runner. What is the proper decision, if it were a legal pitch?

Answer to Question No. 28: Charles Wotton is the former Rockland player now recognized as one of the most capable sports officials in the Pine Tree State.

The answer to Question No. 29 will appear in Saturday's issue.

Gardners' Paradise

Fine Plants To Be Had At Small Cost Tuesday At Garden Club Sale

A plant sale that is distinctly out of the ordinary will be held on the Copper Kettle lawn starting at 2 p. m. next Tuesday. If the day proves stormy, the event will take place the first fair afternoon.

An opportunity will be provided for all to replenish their home gardens or start new gardens at small cost as this event is being sponsored by the Rockland Garden Club, its annual plant sale. The entire proceeds of the sale will be devoted to the Garden Club's newest project, the planting of the grounds of Community Building.

Members and friends of the Garden Club and of Community Building are asked to contribute from their surplus shrubs, perennials, seedlings, vines, etc. Those wishing plants called for please telephone 925-W or 943-R. These plants will be offered for sale at very reasonable prices to all who come to the Copper Kettle lawn, Post Office Square. A threefold benefit will result. Many small gardens will be enlarged and new gardens started. New interest in gardening will be created and all co-operating may feel that they have helped beautify the grounds of Rockland's Community Building.

POPPIES BLOOMING

Paper Replicas of Those Which Bloomed in France To Be Sold Saturday

Poppies were blooming today at the headquarters of Winslow-Holbrook Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, as the little red memorial flowers which the people of Rockland will wear in honor of the World War dead on Poppy Day, Saturday, were being unpacked. The poppies were received from Tugus where they were made by disabled veterans for the Auxiliary.

The poppies are crepe paper replicas of the wild poppies of France and Belgium which bloomed along the World War battle front and which inspired the famous poem "In Flanders Fields." More than ten million of them have been made this year by disabled war veterans working in government hospitals and in convalescent work rooms maintained by the Auxiliary. Poppies for the State of Maine have been made at Tugus, under the direction of the Department President of the Auxiliary.

"Each flower has been shaped painstakingly by the hands of some disabled veteran," said Minnie Smith, the Auxiliary's Poppy Day chairman, as she examined the memorial blooms. "The poppy work is a real boon to these men as it is the only form of employment open to them. Only men receiving little or no government compensation are given the work with preference going to those who have families to support."

For making the poppies and attaching the official American Legion and Auxiliary label, the veterans are paid by the Auxiliary, they being the only paid workers in the whole poppy program. The Auxiliary supplies the materials and advances the money to pay the men as the poppies are produced. Approximately $100,000 in earnings goes into the empty pockets of these veterans each year, and in addition, hundreds of thousands of dollars are raised for Auxiliary welfare work.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

THE SOLDIER'S DREAM

Our bugles sang true, for the night-cold had lowered,
And the sentry stars set their watch in the sky;
And thousands had sunk on the ground overpowered,
The weary to sleep, and the wounded to die.

When reposing that night on my pallet of straw
By the wolf-scarred fagot that guarded the slain,
At the dead of the night a sweet vision I saw,
And there ere the morning I dreamt it again.

Methought from the battle-field's dreadful array,
Far, far I had roamed on a desolate track;
'Twas autumn,—and sunshine arose on the way
To the home of my fathers, that welcomed me back.

I flew to the pleasant fields traversed so oft
In life's morning march, when my bosom was young;
I heard my own mountain-goats bleating aloft,
And knew the sweet strain that the cornreapers sung.

Then pledged we the wine-cup, and fondly I swore
From my home and the weeping by friends never to part;
My little ones kissed me a thousand times o'er,
And my wife sobbed aloud in her fulness of heart.

"Stay, stay with us!—rest! thou art weary and worn!"
And faint was their war-broken soldier to stay—
But sorrow returned with the dawning of morn,
And the voice in my dreaming ear melted away.

"The Black Cat"

By the Roving Reporter

Mrs. Clinton Kaler remembers the "Pint Basin" schoolhouse in Cushing because she was one of the pupils. Miss Mina Woodcock was superintendent and Miss Alice Smith of Waldoboro and Miss Carrie Maloney (now Mrs. Bert Geyer) of Cushing were among her teachers. They called it the little red schoolhouse in those days. Passing it not long ago, Mrs. Kaler saw that it was open and being cleaned. She could not resist the temptation to enter, but great was her disappointment not to find the desk on which she carved her name years ago. Somebody else who promptly identified the "Pint Basin" was Madeline Rogers of Rockland who used to teach there.

Baptisms in ice water are criticized by many persons, but not by A. W. Gregory, Willis I. Ayer, George T. Stewart, and George L. St. Clair, who for a number of winters did salt water bathing while there was snow on the ground, and when it was often necessary to break the ice before taking the plunge. All are still living to tell the tale of their youthful recklessness.

From his sick bed, where I learn with deepest regret of his critical illness Herbert N. Brazier of Glen Cove writes:

"In reply to inquiry in the Black Cat column I will say that the Pint Basin school house is located in the fork of the road going from Stimpson's Point toward the Post Office in Cushing. I attended that school in the early Eighties and my teacher was Miss Eva Woodcock of Friendship. My schoolmates were Henry and Alpheus Jones now of Thomaston and Kate Lill and George McCarter and Florence Jones Copeland.

Of a mechanical turn of mind, and a fireman from the ground up, Jimmy Gray of Central Fire Station is completing a table lamp which is not only unique, but which packs a history. The central feature of it is a brass hose nozzle which once did duty on the James F. Sears hose wagon. It was later transferred to the LaFrance chemical engine, and with its usefulness gone is now being put to the use above mentioned. At the base of the lamp are miniature ladders and other fire equipment, while the shade of the lamp is decorated with fire pictures. When the alarm rings Jimmy will go out, but not so the lamp.

Frank McDonnell of Rockport watching number plates, has seen 23 States thus far this season, adding Indiana, Minnesota, Tennessee and Missouri to the list already published in this paper. Last year Mr. McDonnell saw 45 States and number plates representing 14 foreign countries.

Writing from South Cushing yesterday, Carrie A. (Maloney) Geyer said:

"Seeing your query in The Black column in regard to the 'Pint Basin' house of learning, brings to my mind my first term of school which was taught in that building, in the North part of this town, Cushing, where I had 15 pupils, many of whom are now grandmothers and grandfathers, as that was 47 years ago, and I was then at the ripe old age of 16 years."

Eleven years ago the coming Saturday a lad named Lindbergh became a world figure.

Mrs. Minnie Wellman, at present employed as order clerk at the Lobster Pot in Friendship, challenges the statement of Ernest C. Davis that he has the only relic from the Bay View House which was destroyed by fire at Camden years ago. In her possession for a long time was the hotel sideboard which had been included in purchases made by her father Frank Carey, and a Mr. Royer. It was given to Mrs. Wellman prior to her marriage, and later was presented to her niece Mrs. Lloyd Manning of Freedom, where it may still be seen, built into the old fashioned type, marble topped.

In Spite of Wars

The Consumption of Bibles Was Greatest in History Last Year

An annual circulation, throughout the world, of 7,000,000 copies of the Scriptures, for the 13th successive year, is reported by the American Bible Society.

China, in spite of the fact that for half the year was torn by war, for the sixth successive year reported a distribution of more Bibles than ever in her history. A 10 percent increase, totalling the largest circulation of Scriptures in its history of 41 years, was reported by the Brazil agency of the Society.

Notable in the year's distribution was the service rendered by the Society to the great Ohio Valley area devastated by the unprecedented floods, where 60,000 volumes were distributed to the sufferers in this stricken section. The service to the men in the Civilian Conservation Corps camps was continued, the chaplains distributing to men who asked for them almost 48,000 Testaments and Bibles furnished free by the Society.

The area covered by the four divisions working among the Negroes, includes a population which totals almost 12,000,000 people. The outstanding work of the year centered around the cultivation of young people's groups in high schools, colleges and churches. Essay contests enlisted the interest of hundreds, while the establishment of daily Vacation Bible Schools met with great success.

In Turkey, one of the higher government schools asked for a small grant of Bibles for its English department. Together with these was included a copy of the Revised Turkish New Testament. Later, it was discovered that since it was put on the library shelves, this New Testament had been in almost constant circulation among the students, and that there was a small waiting list of those who had signed for the book on its return.

The first half of 1937 held bright prospects for the Bible cause in China. Before the outbreak of hostilities the work of the British and American Bible Societies had been united. Meanwhile, war conditions have amply demonstrated the value of this merger. A Bible Society in a war situation must work on both sides of the lines of battle. And there must be added to the peace-time program service to military hospitals, refugee camps, and the like.

No damage has been reported to the Society's property or the printing plates of the Chinese Scriptures. While there is a decrease in the total circulation of the Scriptures, China again reports, for the sixth successive year, more Bible Bibles distributed than ever before in her history.

During 1937, the American Bible Society received the manuscript of the Bulu Old Testament for publication. This is the culmination of over 40 years of work by Presbyterian U. S. A. missionaries laboring among 600,000 people living in the French Cameroun.

The year 1937 was the 103d in which the Bible Society has served the Blind. In the United States, 3,408 embossed volumes of Scriptures in ten languages and systems were distributed. In addition the Society's foreign agencies distributed 1,316 volumes, of which 1,135 were in Japanese Braille, supplied by the agency at Tokyo.

The past year saw the first steps taken toward a new form of service in the distribution of the Bible in talking book records. Through the co-operation of the government the entire New Testament and 12 books of the Old Testament are now available in 73 double-faced records. Hitherto the Society has limited its talking book distribution to two special records of Scripture selections.

Records Shattered

By Results of Maine Fishing Thus Far — 10,000 Salmon From Sebago

With the Maine fishing season still in its infancy, records for as far back as 25 years have been shattered as anglers continue to land salmon and trout in unprecedented quantities from the State's lakes and streams.

At Sebago Lake veteran guides were unable to recall a season when the fishing was as good as it has been this year. A conservative estimate this week placed the "take" at this lake at 10,000 salmon since the season started a little over a month ago. Today anglers who did not land their legal limit were in the minority as the fish struck flies, sewed bait and worms indiscriminately.

In the Rangeley lake regions catches during the first week of the open season have been far above those of the last five years. In addition, salmon have been running much larger than has been the case. Several tipping the scales at over ten pounds have been taken from Rangeley Lake. Moosehead megamouth and other waters in the region.

At Moosehead Lake anglers from virtually every state east of the Mississippi are enjoying the best angling that this huge 40 mile long body of water has produced in years.

Grand Lake, in Washington County, was also producing at a rate far in excess of previous years. Observers view the excellent fishing as a vindication of the generous propagation of game fish in all of the state's principal fishing waters during the last few years. Weather and water conditions thus far this year have been ideal.

The Star Alleys

Seaview Steeves Will Now Have a Crack At "The Great Arico"

The regular title matches Friday at the Star Alleys have caused quite a little excitement in certain places. Mike Arico's match with Steeves of the Seaview Garage will take place as scheduled on Friday at 7 p. m.

Mike's manager would like to explain a few things about the past matches and let Stevenson of Camden know why he didn't get this chance at the champ.

Stevenson should have had his match with "the great Arico" the week Hobbs rolled, but due to a slight mistake he was overlooked. No definite arrangements were made with Stevenson and before we could contact him Mr. Steeves challenged, and was accepted. No doubt about it, Mr. Stevenson is the class of Camden and will get his chance at the title, by challenging the winner of this 20 string match.

Arico accepts Stevenson's challenge right now, but will wait and see if he still has his title before making it official.

Rural Fire Losses

Average $400 Every Minute — Proper Arrangement Of the Buildings

Loss from rural fires averages $400 every minute of the day, a loss that the village home owner or farmer might reduce by his own efforts, says M. G. Huber, agricultural extension engineer at the University of Maine. The farmer, in particular, he points out, must be his own building inspector, zoning officer, and in emergency, his own fireman and fire chief. If he does a good job in each case he can do a lot toward reducing an annual rural fire loss of about $225,000,000.

Huber quotes from a report of engineers in the U. S. Department of Agriculture to the National Fire Protection Association on the common causes of rural fires in every part of the country. From their research come definite recommendations for farmers and householders:

When possible, farm buildings should be in a line at right angles to prevailing winds. With this arrangement there is less danger of sparks being carried from one building to another. Roofs of major buildings should be of fire-resistant material. Chimneys may be cleaned of soot with a few bricks or rocks in a sack at the end of a long rope. Furnaces, stoves, and stoves properly installed and inspected regularly reduce a common cause of fire.

A system of grounded conductors gives protection against lightning. Carelessness in handling lamps and lanterns, in disposing of ashes in storing and handling gasoline and kerosene, and in allowing rubbish to accumulate where it becomes a fire hazard accounts for many farm fires. In building, closing all open spaces in hollow walls at each floor line of the home keeps a fire from spreading quickly from one story to another.

The Department of Agriculture has recently revised its Farmers Bulletin on "Fire Safeguards for the Farm." Ask for F. B. 1643; it is free upon request to the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Those Ant Pests

Uncle Sam Gives Us Some Hints How To Get Rid Of Them

In the good old summer time come the ants, both red and black, to pester picnickers and raid pantry shelves.

Ants like sweet foods especially such as sugar, cakes, and candies and cooked meats or meat products. The bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, which has made extensive studies of the way of ants and methods of preventing annoyance from them, explains that if a foraging or scout ant locates food of these kinds, it reports its discovery to the ant colony. In an incredibly short time the storage place may be swarming with unwelcome visitors.

If the nest can be located by following the trail of the workers back to the point of their disappearance the inmates of the nest or colony may be reached and destroyed. If the nest is not in a place where a fire hazard would be created, the ants may be destroyed by injecting a little carbon bisulphide, kerosene or gasoline into the opening by means of an oil can or small syringe. These substances are all inflammable. Precautions should be taken to see that no fire is lighted where they are used.

Tried and proved prevention methods are to keep food supplies likely to attract ants in tight containers or in the refrigerator, sweep up promptly any crumbs of cake or bread, scattered in the house.

Poison baits can also be used to kill the queens and the brood. Sugar sirup containing sodium arsenite, benzoate of soda, and tartaric acid is an effective bait. If used out of doors it should be placed in small containers and put near the place where ants occur in large numbers. If used indoors, small amounts can be placed in the trail of the ants on sponges. Precautions should be taken to safe-guard human beings and animals when poisoned sirups are being used, prepared, or kept on hand.

COVER SPICES

Spices, coffee and tea lose their flavor with exposure to the air, so it is best to keep them covered. Remember to keep the holes in spice sifters closed, too.

TEN MILLION AFFECTED

As families of part-time farmers are larger in size than the general average, there is a total population of between nine and ten million represented by this segment of our population. Since the farms are smaller in size, and as they usually have somewhat less livestock, other members, as well as the head of the family, find work at occupations other than farming. The back-to-the-land movement as well as the stay-on-the-land tendency of industrial workers have been aided by improved roads and increased use of automobiles. Distance is now measured in terms of minutes rather than miles. The search for greater security may be seen from the relatively large number of owners and former city dwellers among this type of farm operators, and their increase since 1930.

Baseball Notes

On a ball field which swarmed with black flies, Thomaston and Camden managed to get in 2½ innings Tuesday afternoon. Neither side had scored but things were beginning to look bright for Thomaston in the last half of the third when the home team had two runners on the base paths with only one down. H. Sawyer, the young Thomaston pitcher, had not allowed a hit, and no Camden man had seen first base. Belyea was in the box for Camden. An especially fine play was made by L. Simpson who stopped a hot grounder with his left hand, and shot it across to Miller for an out. Thomaston also appears to have found a good second baseman in Orne, the Cushing boy.

Eb. Grafton who starred in the Knox Twilight League a few years ago, and who has since been employed at the Bay View Farms in Belfast, is back at his Thomaston home, and will probably be seen in a Twilight League uniform this summer. "Eb" was one of the best outfielders in the circuit; likewise one of the best liked players.

Vinal Haven Cachet

Postmaster Drew Designs a Very Appropriate One For Island Patrons

Vinal Haven Post Office, under the direction of Postmaster O. V. Drew, is taking part in the nation wide observance of Air Mail Week, by having a special cachet available for the special air mail flight from Vinal Haven the morning of May 19. Instructions have been received from Airways Inc. of Waterville, that one of their planes will touch at Belfast, Islesboro, Camden, North Haven and Vinal Haven, and the postmasters of the several towns have been invited to make the flight along with the first official air mail to go out from these towns.

Postmaster Drew has designed a cachet that reflects the historical background of this island town. On the left is a lighthouse, of which there are no less than eight visible from different parts of Vinal Haven. In the background is a reproduction of an old mail packet, similar to the style of vessels that used to bring mail to the islands before the introduction of steam. On the right is the modern airplane that brings the modern note to the picture and ties in with the Air Mail Week observance.

The cut was made by printer John Gordon, who has worked at his trade all over the United States and Canada, and was whittled from a block of pine with his trusty jack-knife. These cachets will be available to all who desire to send air mail during Air Mail Week or on the special flight. Vinal Haven Post Office will also have available the new series 6-cent air mail stamp which will be of interest to collectors.

First flight covers may be obtained by sending the necessary money for the air mail stamps and one cent additional for each printed cachet. The printing press used by Printer Gordon is 75 years old and so rare that it is considered a museum piece. Some of the type used is of the same age and made in a style commonly used over 100 years ago. Sir John is no spring chicken himself, but he feels and acts one.

So far, Postmaster Drew finds that Air Mail Week has been the means of spreading a great deal of valuable information to his patrons that they would otherwise not have known.

While I my sermon write;
He lies down picturesque
My cat. Annoying sight!

Upon my paper, books
He rolls, begins to purr;
As he he teasing looks,
Asks me to stroke his fur.

He laps my outstretched hand
And with affectionate nose
Caresses my face bland
In fond devoted pose.

Oh! I know what he wants—
His love is all a bluff—
Why he my presence wants:
His stomach he would stuff.

He looks at me and mews
In pitiable cry:
Attention I refuse
He bats me in the eye.

Like him some human kind Whose ways are ever such:
For what they hope to find
They love us very much.

Well! Here's my sermon done
With my old feline aid.
His victuals he has won.
I feed him and feel paid.

Jamaica, Vt. Allison M. Watts

I gave it the GUN... and SHOT ahead to safety!

COMMON ACCIDENT NARROWLY MISSED by GRAHAM WAHN, NEW YORK CITY

"I stepped on the gas. Richfield's pick-up got me out of the way... with only a split-second to spare."

BE READY FOR EMERGENCIES

Don't be fooled by the foolish driver! Protect yourself! How? First, with brakes that stop quickly—to keep you from getting into a jam. Second, with gasoline that starts quickly—to help you get out of a jam.

Richfield is that kind of gasoline. Its quick pick-up helps you avoid smash-up. So, drive carefully and... switch to richer Richfield! Switch to richer Richfield All-Weather Motor Oil, too. With these partners in power, you can feel safer on today's highways!

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day of about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out all poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Agriculture

R. P. Conant of Rockland has 1,000 chicks from which he will obtain his pullets for next fall. The birds will soon be put into shelters.

Eight hundred apple trees have been set out by Herbert Hardy, Malcolm Libby, Allie Dunton, A. P. Allen, Wallace Robbins, Frank and Gilford Payson and Howard Coase of Hope. This is one of the outstanding orchard centers in the county. More trees will be ordered by these men next year.

Nearly 50 farmers in the county
have applied for superphosphate from the Searsport plant to use in seedling down and mixing with their manure.

Charles Grinnell of Burketville reports good results with superphosphate used with hen manure
the past year. He is going to use more next winter not only in the hen house, but also in the dairy barn. A light application on the dropping boards and in the gutter back of the cows will help keep the manure from heating.

A. P. Allen of Hope is planting
some of the new Warba potatoes
this year which he obtained from Charles Grinnell. This is an early potato and very heavy yielding. It resembles the cobbler in shape but has pink eyes.

4-H Club Notes

Mina Butler, Melie Boudway,
Drummond Giles, Beryl Butler, Doreen Goodale, members of Booth-bay Gainers 4-H Club, each gave a demonstration before the local Grange recently. These demonstrations, in order, were: muffin making, gingerbread, chocolate cake,
yeast bread, and sandwich fillings.
After the Grange meeting the club members served refreshments of hot cocoa, sandwiches, and cake to all present. The Boothbay Gainers have completed all possible requirements to date for their fifth national seal of achievement. Much credit is due their club leader, Mrs.
Melie Goodale.

The Sunshine Seven of Nobleboro, met at the home of their leader, Mrs. Ruth French. Egg Cookery and Omelets proved to be a very interesting subject. All 12 members were present and plans were made for their public demonstration which is to be held during demonstration week, May 16-22.

James Wentworth, member of the Hatchet Mountain 4-H Club of Hope, gave a demonstration on the candling and grading of eggs at the Knox Pomona Grange in Hope.
There were about 150 present.

Three of the Hope 4-H clubs held judging contests this last week.
Pauline True of the Willing Workers was champion of a judging contest on table setting at the home of one of the members, Barbara Barrett. Bertram Wentworth won the judging ribbon when the Hope Happy 4-H boys judged on beans,

May 6th. The Hatchet Mountain
4-H boys had their judging contest on potatoes. Wilfred Hobbs and Vinal Hardy tied for highest place among the senior boys. Elroy Beverage was champion of the juniors
in the Hatchet Mountain Club.
Mrs. E. N. Hobbs is leader of the Willing Workers, and Mrs. Bessie
Hardy is leader of both the Hope's
Happy 4-H and the Hatchet Mountain 4-H Club.

Demonstration Week—May 16-22.
There are only nine more days
for those who have not yet given their public demonstrations and would like to give it by Demonstration Week so that participants may receive certificates. The public demonstration is one of the requirements to be met by every club if it is to earn its national seal of achievement. This year green and white certificates are to be awarded to all participants in public demonstrations held before or during Demonstration Week.

Big Pheasant Hatch

Rockland Boy Watching For Result From Setting Of 4000 Eggs

Four thousand pheasant eggs are incubating at the State Game Farm
at Dry Mills, and Supt. McNeil Brown said he expected the first chicks to be hatched May 20. This is more than a week earlier than last year, Brown said.

It is planned to raise the same number of birds as last year, approximately 8,000, Brown declared, this year being the capacity of the brooder house at the present time. Of that number all but 1,000, which are held over through the winter for breeding stock, will be liberated in suitable covers during the summer and early fall.

Brown expressed the opinion that Maine's stock of wild pheasants should produce a large number of birds this season. The open winter and good spring breeding conditions should have combined to make a large natural hatch, he said.

While the question of an open season this year cannot be answered until late in the summer, Fish and Game Commissioner George J.
Stobie indicated last year that he would be guided by the wishes of a majority of the sportsmen.

At a meeting held last fall to discuss the question, those present were almost unanimous in believing that Maine should wait at least another year before permitting the birds to be shot.

It is to be hoped that by continued stocking a hardy, self-sustaining breed of pheasants will be able to withstand the Maine climate as well as native grouse.

FOX ISLAND HISTORY

Hiram Farrow, an Excellent Authority, Cites An Interesting Fact

Belfast, Maine, May 8
Editor of The Courier-Gazette—
I noted recently in your paper something of the early history of the Fox Islands. A peculiar circumstance in that connection is that of the 64 persons to whom the islands were granted, exactly one-fourth had names beginning with C.
Among those was Benjamin Carr who had as his share a tract of 500
acres on the northern side of Pulpit Harbor and known as "Carr's Point"
now almost entirely owned by Thomas W. Lamont and the family of the late Charles D. Norton. He was a soldier of the Revolution. He was built very thin like a Hamilton watch and it is related that he used to say that when in battle he saw a bullet coming he would say "Edg-wise Ben Carr" and turn and let it go by him. He is buried northwest of the house on what was known as the Hanford Beverage farm.

I also noticed an item to effect that the late execution at Castine was of a man named Ball. Allow me to say that executed with him
was one Seth Elliot of Freedom.
This was many years before the nearly pampered idea was foisted
on the public that these creatures
should be preserved as community pets. Within the last few months six of them have carried out their personal decree that seven of their victims should not live.

SAMUEL A. VANNER

Samuel Alfred Vanner of 51 Missile Valley Parkway, Winchester, Mass., died suddenly at the Dea-coness Hospital in Boston where he underwent an operation a few days previous. Mr. Vanner was a native of Washington, the eldest son of the late Alfred and Evelia (Tibbets) Vanner and his early life was spent here. He was born Oct. 9, 1869 and had lived until October would have been 69
years old.

After receiving his education in the public schools of Maine he went to Massachusetts where for many years he was connected with the Schrafft Candy Company, retiring
only a few years ago.

June 17, 1911 he was united in marriage with Miss Grace Hill of Augusta and Waterville who died last year. By this marriage he had one son Charles Maxwell who resides in Massachusetts. Mr. Vanner had but recently returned from Southern Pines, Fla., where his winters had been spent for the past several years and April 29 he entered the hospital for a minor operation, where his death occurred very unexpectedly from heart failure.

His only near relative in Washington is a brother Charles E. Vanner to whose family he was deeply attached. Funeral services were at the First Congregational Church, Winchester, May 8 and the remains were brought to Maine to be interred in the family lot in the cemetery at Waterville.

Whitman County, Washington produces more wheat than any other county in the United States,
Census Bureau reports indicate.

SUSAN R. TRUEWORTHY

Miss Susan Rich Trueworthy was born in Rockland on Oct. 24, 1868, daughter of Acel E. Trueworthy and Acelia (Worthen) Trueworthy.
Her early life was spent in Rockland. After the death of her mother, she went to live with an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Moses Eriggs in Melrose.

She graduated from the Perry Kindergarten School and for a time had a private school of her own in Waltham. Then she became kindergarten teacher for some years in the Cushman School on Hammon-street, Chestnut Hill, Mass.

She made her home in Waltham
14 years, prior to going to Sharon.
During this time, she was a member and active in Beth Eden Church, where she also sang in the choir.
At the time of her death, she was a beloved member of the First Baptist Church in Sharon. She was interested in all good causes, and gave unintentionally of her time and strength to many such interests.

For the last 26 years, she has made her home with Dr. Joseph A.
Cushman and his family in Sharon,
Mass., where her sweet, gentle nature endeared her to all who knew her. A great love for children was her most outstanding characteristic, and many are the children whose lives she has touched, who think of her with love and gratitude. She loved Nature, and had a keen appreciation of beauty in all its forms.

She was an enthusiastic traveler,
and revelled in her trips to the Mediterranean, Alaska, and Porto Rico. Her own New England gave her great joy, particularly the "White Hills" of New Hampshire, the pastoral beauty of Vermont, and the charm of her own beautiful State of Maine.

She died at her home in Sharon
May 5, after a long illness.
"More home-like seems the vast unknown
Since she has entered there
To follow her were not so hard
Wherever she may fare
She can not be where God is not,
On any sea or shore,
Whither betides Thy love abides,
Our God, forevermore."
